The ASH Pre-Study Program

For whom is the ASH Pre-Study program and why does it exist?

The ASH Pre-Study Program is for refugees who cannot yet apply for regular studies at ASH. Language competences in German can be acquired within the two semester program and pre-internships can be carried out, that are required to apply for certain studies at ASH. In addition there is the possibility to enroll to courses which then are credited in further studies. With the Pre-Study Program as well as the support in regular applications, the ASH aims to overcome barriers and contribute actively to equality of opportunity and in education.

Structure of the ASH Pre-Study Program

Duration: 2 Semesters (approx. 1 Year)

Program:

- Language- and orientation courses (Level B2 and C1)
- Enrollment in accompanied courses
- Completion of study relevant application requirements (e.g. internship, first-aid course)

Support:

- Support and assistance by mentors
- Support for final application to regular studies

The ASH B.A.-Study Programs

Why study Soziale Arbeit, Erziehung und Bildung im Kindesalter, Gesundheits- und Pflegemanagement or Physiotherapie/ Ergotherapie at ASH Berlin?

The need of qualified and multi-lingual personnel in the fields of Social Work, Education, Parenting and Health in Germany rises continuously for years now.

At the ASH, students acquire competences through the respective BA-Studies in exactly these fields of work in order to be qualified to act independently in various fields of the social-, parenting-, education-, and health sector.

According to the values of its founder, the ASH considers itself very engaged in the academisation of study programs such as Soziale Arbeit, Erziehung und Bildung im Kindesalter, Gesundheits- und Pflegemanagement und Physio-/Ergotherapie as well as professionalization of jobs regarding human rights, transnational networking and the promotion of diversity.

Even today the ASH considers itself committed and socially tasked to support social justice and critically reflect on developments in social society, regarding emancipatory reality.
